

OUR APPLE VARIETIES 2020

AMOROSA

Winter fruit, keeps to store. It is good to eat as such, good as a household apple as well.

ASFARI

Our newest variety. It has a sweet and sour taste, very good to eat and is also suitable for desserts.

ATLAS & ANTONOWKA

Household apple varieties of which we have only a small amount.

DISCOVERY

Very popular autumn fruit. It has a slightly sweeter taste that is good to eat as such but is also suitable for baking, salads and desserts.

GENEVA EARLY

As the name suggests, this is a summer fruit that ripens already in August. Sweet and sour taste, good to eat as such.

JASPI

Autumn fruit that is good to eat as such. Belongs to the varieties used for juices.

LOBO

Winter fruit, "Christmas apple" that is good to eat as such but is not so sour. A variety that is part of our own apple juice.

RAJKA

Winter fruit with good shelf life. Good "Christmas apple", intense and sweet taste, best eaten as such. This variety gives tasty juice.

RUBINOLA

The most popular winter fruit, good for storage. Sweet and sour and good to eat, suitable for desserts and pastries. It has extra high vitamin C values and gives the very best apple must.

RED CINNAMON

Autumn fruit, an old well-known variety. Used in Lepola's cider (Söderlångvik's own cider consists of a selected mixture of varieties).

SAMO

Early autumn fruit with light color and sweet and sour taste. Suitable as a household fruit and is one of the varieties found in our apple jam.

TOBIAS

Late autumn fruit that lasts well in stock, and is suitable as an eating and household apple. This variety is sold in stores on Kimito Island and it is also used for must.

WINTER CINNAMON

Late autumn fruit, a cross between Lobo and red cinnamon. Good to eat as it is, suitable as a household apple. Also sold on Kimito Island.

ÅKERÖ

Winter apple, good to eat as such, eat it immediately because it does not hold up so well in stock. Also a variety that we have only a little of and sell on special occasions such as the Apple Day.
